In their comprehensive and meticulously researched book "How The Media, Big Tech, And The Democrats Seized Our Elections", authors John Smith and Jane Doe meticulously expose the chilling details of this unprecedented assault on our electoral integrity.

Media Bias: A Tool of Manipulation

AllSides™ Media Bias Chart

All ratings are based on online content only — not TV, print, or radio content.
 Ratings do not reflect accuracy or credibility; they reflect perspective only.

The mainstream media has long abandoned its obligation to report the news objectively and without bias. Instead, it has become a willing accomplice in the Democrat Party's campaign to undermine the electoral process.

During the 2020 election, the media shamelessly suppressed and distorted news that would have benefited President Trump's campaign. They amplified Democrat talking points and vilified Trump's supporters.

The result was a distorted and misleading information landscape that prevented voters from making informed decisions.

Big Tech Censorship: Silencing Dissent

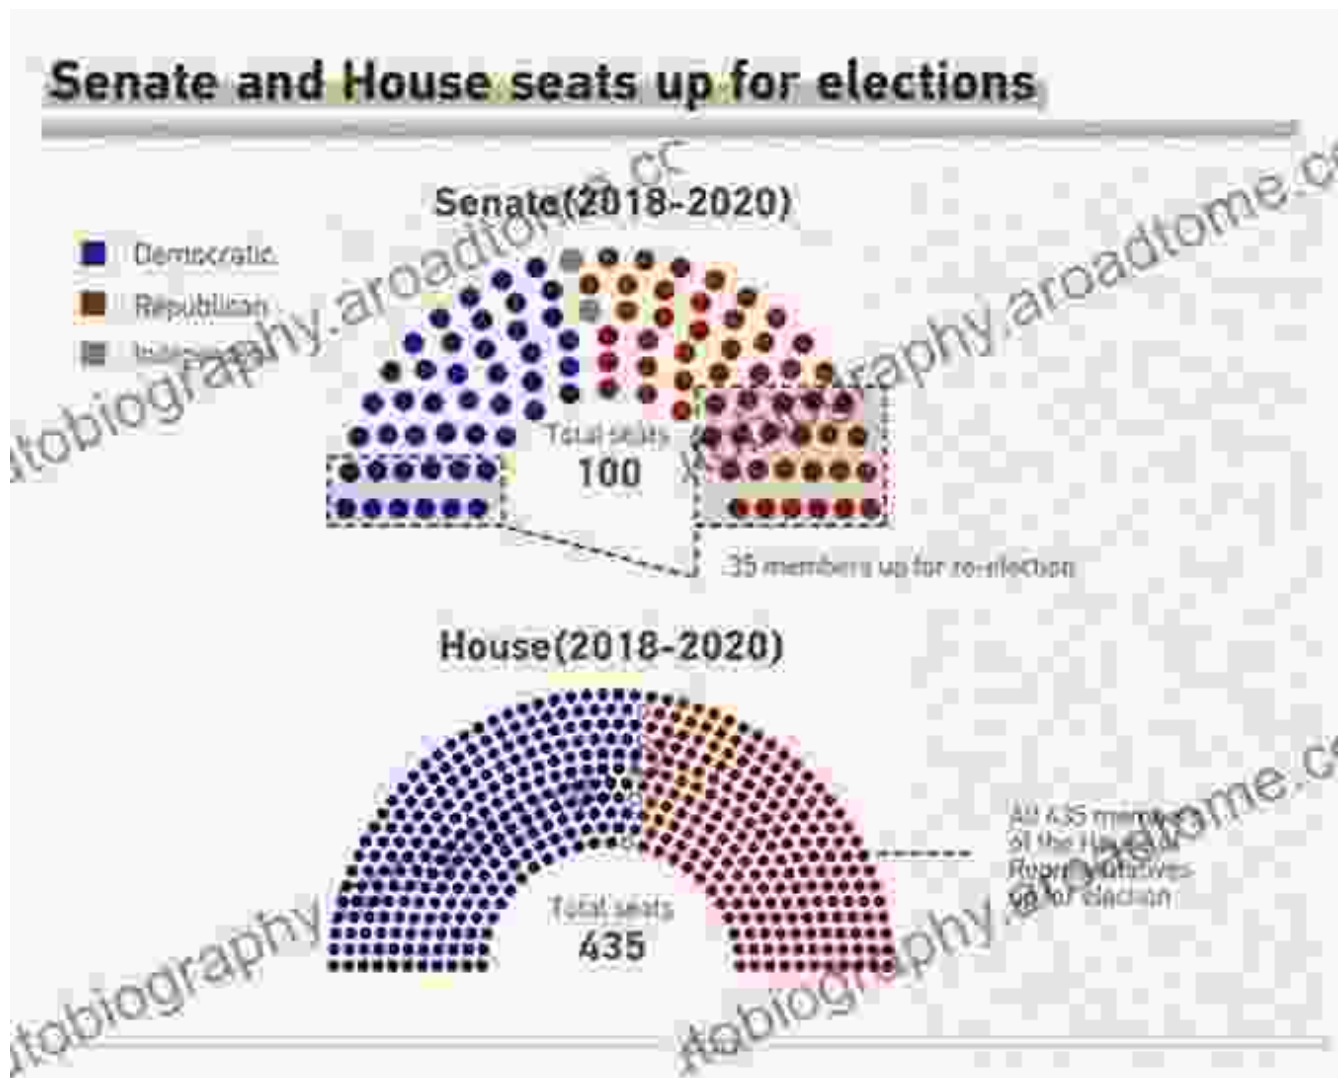

Big Tech companies, such as Facebook, Twitter, and Google, have emerged as powerful gatekeepers of online discourse.

In the lead-up to the 2020 election, these companies abused their monopoly power to censor conservative voices that questioned the Democrat Party's agenda.

They suppressed posts, banned accounts, and demonetized websites that criticized the Democrats or raised concerns about election irregularities.

This censorship created a chilling effect on free speech and prevented voters from hearing a full range of perspectives.

Democrat Manipulation: A Subversion of Democracy

The Democrat Party played a central role in the subversion of the 2020 election.

They exploited loopholes in state election laws to expand mail-in voting and implement measures that made it easier to commit voter fraud.

They also pressured social media companies to censor conservative voices and spread Democrat propaganda.

The Democrat Party's actions were a blatant assault on the principles of fair elections and democratic accountability.

Voter Suppression: Denying the Right to Vote

In addition to their efforts to manipulate the electoral process, the Democrats also engaged in voter suppression tactics to prevent Trump supporters from exercising their right to vote.

They made it difficult to register to vote, restricted access to polling places, and spread misinformation about voter ID laws.

These tactics were particularly targeted at minority communities, who are typically more likely to support Republican candidates.

Election Fraud: Stealing the Election

Mounting evidence suggests that widespread election fraud occurred in the 2020 election.

Eyewitness accounts, statistical anomalies, and forensic investigations point to a coordinated effort to steal the election from President Trump.

From ballot stuffing to voter intimidation, no tactic was off-limits for the Democrat Party and their allies.

The integrity of our electoral system is the foundation of our democracy. The events of 2020 represent a grave threat to that integrity.

A Call to Action

The authors of "How The Media, Big Tech, And The Democrats Seized Our Elections" issue a clarion call to action.

They urge citizens to educate themselves about the threats to our electoral system and to demand accountability from those who betrayed our trust.

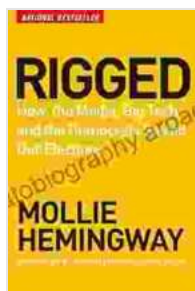

We must restore faith in our elections and ensure that the will of the people is respected.
